Mr. Robert Bradford

Physics, Marine Science, Physical Science and Health

This yearbook is dedicated to Mr. Bradford in recognition of his success as a teacher and for the inspiration toward excellence that he provides his students. His motto, "Never Too Late," has proved true for him as he has welcomed change and sought new experiences throughout his life. And he translates his own enthusiasm for science into fun and challenging learning experiences for his students. He encourages every one of his students to "Go for the Gold" in their own lives.

Sports . . . . . pages 84 to 107
Advertisements . . . . . pages 108 to 128

In the Olympics, they call it patriotism. In high school, we call it school spirit. Our loyalty to our school, our class, our clubs and teams and our friends is our most dramatic quality. It charges us with the energy to do better then we would have predicted for ourselves. When we label it "peer pressure," it can drive us to compete or blanket us in security. Whatever, it's a powerful force in our lives . . . and it makes school more fun, too.

Yee-hah! I'm gettin outta here! (away from you)! But seriously, you've been an Loyalty unsacrificable friend! Thanx! I had a good time Loyalty at camp because of you! If you hadn't helped me, I don't know what would've happened! Loyalty I'm gonna miss you. But, you can come and see me at U.M. & I'll be back sometimes! Take Care of yourself! Keep on pushin' in softball! You're good; you have potential!

Some students and teachers are willing to try harder to reach their own personal goals. Effort can be noticed in their willingness to accept and act on criticism, their perseverance in the face of difficulties, and their enthusiasm for the process, not just the product.The "Gold" may be different for each individual, but the reach for it is happening all around us.

was named one of the Top 10 Teachers in Maine for 1987. She was nominated by Mr. Howard, our principal, and went on to the finals for this state honor. Although there was no swimsuit or evening gown competition, Mrs. Bertrand participated in several interviews , prepared a portfolio of her work as a teacher, and presented a speech outlining her ideas about education's greatest challenge today. Her recognition brings honor to all of us, but her efforts highlight her own dedication to teaching and excellence.

Initiative
Initiative
Initiative

Ambitions often lead us in directions away from school. When that happens, a student must seek out opportunities elsewhere. Bucksport High School offers hundreds of academic courses, and many sports and clubs, but no one school could provide for all the goals students seek to achieve. Pictured below are only a few students who have initiated for themselves personal challenges. And in doing so, they bring credit to themselves and all who know them. A high school is a part of a larger world and looking for success in that world is one step in growing up.

Jessica Braun was selected for the Jackson Lab Summer Student Research Program; 4. Stephanie Babson shows her prize-winning cows through the 4-H program.*

Drive

It is easiest to see the Olympic spirit in sports. Athletes set personal and team goals and strive to meet them. But not all teams have winning seasons. The measure of success must also come from other aspects: the sportsmanship, the practice, the cooperation with others and the tolerance of failure in the quest toward excellence. Bucksport teams know a lot about winning. But they also learn the lessons of failure. A quote on Coach Bob Mercer's board says it all: "The greater the risk of failure, the greater the rewards of success."

Amy Burget Spends Senior Year in Germany

Amy Burget spent her senior year as a student in Hamburg, Germany and living with a German family. She sent these pictures to us and she wrote about her experience: "Coming to Germany has not only given me the opportunity to learn about a different culture, but also about myself. I have discovered sides and interests in myself that I never knew existed. I've gained a sense of history. I've developed a strong desire to learn and understand, and I've learned how to cope with difficult situations. All of these things will have a strong influence on my future.

"I have missed the people and activities of my senior year at BHS, but I feel very fortunate to have had this opportunity."

We Remember Ralph Greco, Teacher and Friend

In September, 1987, Bucksport High School students and faculty met a special new teacher who was to have a profound effect on the entire school community. That teacher was Mr. Ralph Greco. His job as special education teacher touched only a few students directly, but his vivacity and humor made him hard to miss all throughout the school. Within a few weeks, in October, a tragic accident took his life and left this school in shock. Students and teachers quickly united to honor his memory and provide what support we could to his family. Few people could have inspired such friendship and respect in such a short time. Bucksport needed Ralph Greco, and we feel privileged to have had him as a member of our family if only for a short time.

Kalle Syrilla of Finland

"Finland is often called the 'land of the thousand lakes' or the 'land of the midnight sun.' Both names are good. According to l985 research, there are 187,888 lakes and ponds in Finland. And the sun shines 24 hours a day for long periods each summer. The country is a little larger than New Mexico. Sweden lies to the west, Norway to the north, and Russia to the east. To the south lies the Gulf of Finland. Finland has been independent since 1917 after the war against the Russians."

' . . . The climate and the scenery in Finland nd Maine are similar, so it wasn't a big change for me. Forestry is the basis of the Finnish economy and I am used to seeing paper mills. My hometown is only a little arger than Bucksport. So many things are he same here as there. But the people here make the difference."

Thanks for being such a good friend.
Good-luck in softball next year. I'll be up to watch you play. I sure miss seeing you next year. Well next year all the seniors will be gone so you don't have to listen to their bull shit. Hope to see you around this summer.
Keep in touch.

April,
all of these years with you have been crazy. But great. So we've been through alot together and we are still alive.

Thanx for everything and I mean that. You've been really great and like a sister to me!

Have a great summer and take it easy on the guys.

APRIL, WELL THIS HAS BEEN A GREAT YEAR! YOU DID A GREAT JOB IN SOFTBALL (OF WHAT I SAW). HAVE A GREAT FUN YOUR JUNIOR YEAR! HAVE A GREAT SUMMER AND I'LL SEE YOU NEXT YEAR!
LOVE, CARRIE

April
Homeroom has been famuch with Mr. Dicky. He needs a diet or something to make him feel better about himself
so he'll leave everyone else alone. It seems like the year isn't over. Like we've only begun. Here in Algebra we have our lovly freshmen that all need brain transplants but anyhow, take care over the summer
